Get what you need to get back to business

In order to get back to work, businesses need to adapt to new ways of doing business. This means making sure you have all the necessary tools to keep employees and customers safe. No matter what kind of business it is, changes will need to be made, and these checklists are here to help.

Schools & classrooms

Our schools require a safe environment for both students and teachers. A plan will be needed to encourage social distancing while also providing a space that is conducive to learning. Use this checklist to make sure your school and classrooms are ready

› Adhesive wall decals with safety reminders

› Antibacterial mouse pads

› Antimicrobial pens

› Antimicrobial styluses

› Barricade tape for unused chairs in auditoriums

› Bumper stickers to show support

› Buttons printed with teacher and school employees' picture since mask hides it

› Chair-Not-In-Use chair covers

› Chargers

› Directional and custom-imprinted floor and carpet decals

› Disposable paper placemats

› Disposable or promotional face masks

› Flash drives

› Hand wash reminder signs for restrooms

› ID badges

› Journals

› No-contact tools

› Non-contact digital thermometers

› Pencil pouches

› Phone wallets

› Power banks

› Protective acrylic desk barriers for classroom desks and in reception areas

› Retractable badge holders for IDs

› Silicone bands/lanyards to denote comfort level with others (for example, hugs and touching are OK, it's OK to talk but not touch, or stay away)

› Spirit wear

› Vinyl banners

› Wall and standing signs

› Wall calendars for classrooms and office

Prepare to safely bring back employees

As companies start to reopen, it's important to make sure your business is prepared. It is recommended that people continue to follow the following practices to ensure a safe and smooth transition:

› Social distancing (specifically, staying 1.5meters away from others when you must go into a shared space)

› Frequently washing hands or use alcohol-based (at least 70% alcohol) hand sanitiser when soap and water are not available

› Wearing cloth face coverings

› Avoiding touching eyes, nose, and mouth

› Staying home when sick

› Cleaning and disinfecting frequently touched objects and surfaces

We have a variety of products that will help you follow these guidelines, and they can even be branded to your business to encourage camaraderie amongst employees and your surrounding community.
